

August 26, 2010

Dear Homeowner(s):

Thank you for your interest in the New Jersey's Clean Energy Program™ Home Performance with ENERGY STAR® program. This program can help you achieve significant energy savings, reduce your monthly bills, and provide you with a more comfortable home.

Because the program looks to improve the energy efficiency of your whole house, incentive levels increase as your energy savings increase. Achieving 25% total energy savings will qualify you for the maximum incentive level available.

Following are the incentive levels for all new program applications submitted on or after July 29, 2010:

- For projects with total estimated energy savings between 5% and 25%, there is a maximum cash rebate of $1,300 or low interest loan at 5.99%.
- For projects with total estimated energy savings of 25% or more, there is a maximum cash rebate of $3,000 and a 0% interest loan.

If you choose to expand your project so that you achieve total estimated energy savings of 25% or more, your contractor will be required to submit a revised work scope proposal for approval, and you may need to sign a new contract to reflect the expanded project. You will then be able to begin work.

If you have any questions regarding the program, please visit NJCleanEnergy.com or contact us at 866-NJSMART.

Sincerely,
Janja Lypse
New Jersey Program Director
Home Performance with ENERGY STAR
New Jersey's Clean Energy Program