

Transition Incentive Program (TI) Update

Extension for Projects in the Transition Incentive Program

By Board Order, the New Jersey Board of Public Utilities (NJBPB) granted an automatic 6 -month extension for projects that submitted a complete TI Application in the Transition Incentive Program on or before the effective date of the Order, June 24, 2021. Eligible TI projects will receive a new expiration date of April 30, 2022.

TI Projects Eligible for a 6-Month Extension

- TI Applications that were issued a TI acceptance letter on or before June 24, 2021
- SRP projects that were transferred to TI and are under the status of accepted
- Complete TI Applications that were submitted on or before June 24, 2021
- Program Year 1 Community Solar projects
- Subsection t applications submitted in TI on or before June 24, 2021, will receive an expiration date of the latter of either April 30, 2022, or the date set out in the Board Order granting the project's conditional certification.
- TI Applications that were submitted on or before June 24, 2021, that were deemed incomplete due to a minor deficiency had 7 business days to complete the TI application packet. TI Applications that submitted the corrections to complete the TI Application packet within the required 7 days are eligible for the 6-month extension.

TI Projects Not Eligible for a 6-Month Extension

- New TI Applications submitted on or after 6/25/2021
- TI Applications submitted on or before 6/24/2021 that were deemed incomplete due to a major deficiency and were rejected
- TI Applications submitted on or before 6/24/2021 that were deemed incomplete due to a minor deficiency and did not submit the corrections to complete the TI Application packet within the required 7 business days
- Subsection t projects submitted on or after 6/25/2021 will receive the 24 months set out in the associated Board Order granting the project's conditional certification.
- TI Applications under the status of Eligible for TI Program will not automatically receive a 6-month extension. To be eligible for the extension, these projects are required to go into the TI application portal and select the project type to complete the transfer to the TI Program. Once the project type has been selected and the project status changed, the expiration date for the TI Application will be revised to April 30, 2022.

For additional questions, please contact njreinfo@njcleanenergy.com